

Iron County Register

BY E. D. AKE.

IRONTON, MISSOURI.

NEWS AND NOTES.

A Summary of Important Events.

Chas. B. Farwell, of Chicago, seems to lead in the race for the Illinois senatorship to succeed General Logan.

The French Minister of War has consented to a reduction in the supplementary credit asked for the military department.

At the workmen's congress, at Brussels, on the 28th, a proposal to affiliate with the American Knights of Labor was disavowed.

President Cleveland's condition, though hardly to be considered critical, is undoubtedly causing his physicians some anxiety.

The Bulgarian agent at Constantinople, in a note to the Grand Vizier, declares that the Porte has no right to interfere in the internal affairs of Bulgaria.

Speaker Carlisle has filed his answer to Geo. H. Thoburn's notice of contest of his election to the Fifty-third Congress, in which he denies all of Thoburn's allegations.

The safe in the post-office at Wadsworth, O., was blown open on the night of the 27th, and about five hundred dollars in money, sixty dollars in stamps and two checks were taken.

General Logan's funeral was arranged to take place in the Senate chamber at Washington on the 31st, and the remains to be interred in a vault there until a place of final burial is determined.

Mr. Gladstone has written for the January number of the Nineteenth Century an article entitled "Locksley Hall and the Jubilee." The article is a criticism of the poem by the light of events of the past fifty years.

The annual statement of the savings banks of Massachusetts is gratifying exhibit. The number of open accounts is 900,000, an increase of 55,252; the amount of deposits is $291,193,500, an increase of $16,190,188.

REV. C. B. SCALDS, of East Lynn, Ill., who ran away with Miss Matthews, leaving his wife and five children behind, was arrested at London, Ont., on the 28th. The parties concerned consented to go back in charge of a detective.

The door of the post-office at Eyeter, N. H., was pried open with a spike on the night of the 27th, the safe blown open and robbed of a stack of stamps containing several hundred dollars' worth of stamps besides money and valuables.

PRESIDENT ELLIOT of Harvard will not confer the degrees on next commencement day. He will sail for Europe soon, accompanied by his wife and daughter, and will remain abroad until next autumn, in hope of regaining his full health.

The General Land Office has recently received reports showing the removal, under peremptory orders from special agents, of fences from twenty inclosures, embracing over 27,000 acres of land, principally in the Denver land district.

Fire broke out on the 28th in the building occupied by the Detroit (Mich.) Alaska Stock Company, and by hard work was confined to the building. Several girls in the third story narrowly escaped with their lives. Loss, $25,000; insurance, $17,500.

Mrs. JOHN BURKE, of Serrano, Pa., while going up stairs on the night of the 27th with a lighted lamp fell to the bottom and was killed. The lamp exploded and set her clothes on fire, and she was rescued when she was burned almost to a crisp.

The commissions of sixty presidential postmasters will expire in January, 1887. Among the more prominent ones are: St. Mary's, Cal.; Monmouth, Ill.; Hutchinson, Kas.; Salina, Kas.; Eureka, Nev.; East Portland, Ore.; Ogden, Utah, and Prairie Du Chien, Wis.

JAMES A. McMASTER, the veteran editor of the New York Freeman's Journal and the leading abolitionist journal in St. Mary's Hospital, Brooklyn, on the 28th, from disorders brought on by a fall some weeks ago. He was born in Duanesburg, N. Y., in 1829, and was the son of a Protestant minister.

The celebrations by the Central and East Washington societies of the late General Logan, held on the 28th, and the philanthropic efforts of the committees were rewarded with perfect success. Happiness was bestowed upon nearly 1,500 children, and the festivities were a grand success, and were entered into by benefactors and beneficiaries.

A DUEL was fought in the City of Mexico on the 28th between Prince Augustin Turbide and Senor Carado, both of whom are members of the Jecker Club. The weapons used were swords. The Prince wounded his antagonist in the shoulder, but not dangerously. The duel took place at the San Lorenzo School of Artillery.

The removal of the snow which fell in the late storm in Germany has revealed an appalling loss of life. Many travelers were overtaken by the storm. Fifty bodies have been found in Saxony, thirty in Thuringia and forty in Southern Germany. It is estimated that the total loss of life will be nearly two hundred.

The committee formed to conduct the no-license campaign in the cities of Massachusetts at the recent election, has called a State temperance convention to be held for January 12 to organize for the no-license campaign in the towns of the State in the coming spring elections, and for the no-license campaign in the cities next fall.

THE PRESIDENT is suffering from a return of the rheumatic attack of several weeks ago, from which he did not recover. He is somewhat easier. He remains in bed most of the time, although he occasionally sits up. Dr. O'Reilly says on the 27th that the President was improving, but that he had ordered him to keep very quiet for a few days.

As an evidence of the carelessness of the public in addressing letters, officials of the dead-letter office, on the 29th, exhibited a list of the sixty-four letters addressed to Pittsburgh, O., all but nine of which were intended for, and were subsequently delivered to parties in Pittsburgh, Pa. Nearly all the letters were to business firms, and many of the envelopes bore business cards.

The Secretary of the Treasury has informed the Secretary of State that he has information that two firms in Hong Kong, viz: Gim Tung Hin and Wing King Tung, are largely engaged in selling certificates to land Chinese in this country, and that they smuggle females through American ports for immoral purposes. He suggests that the matter be investigated by the United States Consul at Hong Kong.

The Railway Agents that in the year just closed 8,000 miles of new main line railroad track have been built in the United States. Kansas leads with the surprising amount of 530 miles, the greatest part laid within the last six months. Assuming the average cost to have been $20,000 per mile, the expenditure for roadway alone was $10,600,000. Indications are that the year 1887 will show even greater activity.

PERSONAL AND GENERAL.

The President and Mrs. Cleveland remembered their household servants very handsomely on Christmas day. Some of the gifts presented to the serving people were quite valuable. Jerry, the man of all work, receiving a neat sum of money and provisions sufficient to last his family several days.

Mrs. JOHN BURKE was burned to death at London, Ont., on the 28th, by a lamp explosion.

LEWIS D. HAYES, for six years one of the editorial writers of the Indianapolis Journal, died on the 28th, after five weeks' illness. He was thirty-seven years of age.

HARVARD COLLEGE receives some $100,000 by the will of John Q. A. Williams, which was filed in the Suffolk County (Mass.) Probate Court on the 28th.

Owing to the illness of Judge Pratt, hearing of the motion for a new trial for ex-Alderman McQuade in the 30th, was postponed from the 28th to the 30th.

The bodies of John Johnson and John Gibson, the firemen who lost their lives in the theater fire at Philadelphia, on the 27th, were recovered on the 28th.

A French officer, Letellier, who was arrested recently at Karlsruhe on suspicion of his being a spy, has been liberated.

JAMES A. LYBSTER, of Illinois, has been appointed medical examiner in the pension office, at a salary of $1,800 per annum. This appointment was made under Civil-Service rules.

The American bark Lillian, from Bangor, Me., which mysteriously disappeared on the 27th, was found on the 28th, having been wrecked on the coast of Newfoundland, during which three men were lost.

There was an accident on the Metropolitan branch of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad on the 28th, by which two colliding passenger trains were pretty badly wrecked.

JOHN ELOA, Jr., in jail at Arcadia, La., charged with the murder of John Lavelle, on the night of December 24, was taken out of jail on the night of the 27th and held in custody.

P. HENRY DUGRO, of New York, the grand scribe of Tammany Hall, has resigned. County Clerk James A. Flack has been selected to succeed him.

The modern language convention of Americanists at Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, on the 28th, for a four days' session. Nearly all the principal colleges in the United States were represented.

GOVERNOR HILL of New York denies the statement, widely circulated, that he was about to visit Washington, where he would be the guest of President Cleveland.

JOHN PATTON, an aged man who lived alone in Franklin, Me., was burned to death in his house. Dr. Patton was formerly a successful dentist, but lost his practice through intemperance, and of late he earned a living by cobbling. The origin of the fire is unknown.

A MILITARY commission is at present engaged in translating the words of command used in the Russian army from the Russian language heretofore used in Bulgaria.

The London Sporting Life is authorized by the statement of Jem Smith, the English champion, would sail for Liverpool for New York on January 20 to meet Sullivan in America.

Mr. JAMES A. BLOOMER, the Baltimore glass-blower, who struck several days ago, returned to work on the 28th on the employers' terms, who insisted on their right to work as long as they were paid, the remainder would return to work soon.

It is feared in Vienna that the Bulgarian deputations of nobles at their recent meeting with Prince Alexander arranged with the latter to return to Bulgaria. This, in the opinion of Austrian Government officials, would aggravate the situation and render Russian occupation of Bulgaria inevitable.

ONLY thirty-five applications from many cities have been received at the Post-Office Department for the free delivery system in cities entitled to it under the act of Congress. Unless application is made by the cities entitled to it, the service will not be established.

The Ohio State Bar Association met at Springfield, O., on the 28th, and lawyers were present from abroad. President Hon. W. J. Gilmore, of Columbus, delivered an address of one hour's duration, in which he reviewed the history of the bar and the progress of the profession.

Two of the participants in the great express robbery have been sentenced to receive $10,000 for allowing themselves to be robbed in the manner he was. A large additional sum of the stolen money has been recovered, and the balance of the robbery will ultimately secure the greater portion of the amount stolen.

An entire block of buildings at Greensburg, Pa., was burned on the 28th. The loss was about $50,000.

CHAS. H. RAYMOND, dealer in supplies, New York, has failed for $500,000.

The 28th was the seventy-seventh anniversary of Mr. Gladstone's birth.

CHAS. H. RAYMOND, dealer in supplies, New York, has failed for $500,000.

The Ontario elections on the 28th resulted in a gain of eight seats for the Government.

The London Post urges the return of Lord Churchill to the Cabinet.

WILLIAM HUTTON, a farmer of Fillmore County, Minn., was killed on the 28th, and his wife was injured, by a fall from a horse on the 28th.

TWENTY-eight-ton guns are being constructed at Woolwich arsenal, for the defense of the Victoria British Columbia.

The steamer Sir John was burned off St. John, N. B., on the 28th, and five persons were fatally injured by fire and one was killed.

M. CLEMENCEAU says there can be no war between France and Germany unless Germany makes the first attack.

AUSTRIA is becoming convinced that Bismarck means war, and the press breathes the fact that Bismarck will not join against the czar.

COLONEL L. C. WELLS, superintendent of the New York City Police, stated that the amount stolen last October was between $81,000 and $82,000. He had charge of the payment of these losses at the time of the robbery.

THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL BLISS was one of the guests on the 28th at a tea given by Mrs. Vilas, wife of the Postmaster-General, in Washington, to introduce her daughter, who makes her debut this winter.

NONE of the Illinois ladies in Washington intended to keep open house or hold receptions on New Year's day, out of respect to the memory of General Logan, and in deference to the sore affliction of Mrs. Logan.

The intention of the Secretary of the Navy to appoint, at the Washington Navy Yard by February 1, a superintendent of the new gun manufactory at the yard, and to have the new manufactory at the yard and applications sent to him before January 15, leaving the qualifications of the persons making application.

GENERAL HILES called at the War Department on the 28th, and had an extended interview with Secretary Edickott. The General left Washington in the evening for New York to remain a day or two before returning to Frederick County, Md., where he will direct the removal of his headquarters to Los Angeles, Cal. Mrs. Miles will accompany her husband West.

R. L. MILLER and his son were indicted by the grand jury of Frederick County, Va., on the 28th for having set fire to their hotel at Pocahontas last October. George and Charles Baker, two worthy young men of Pocahontas, were burned to death in the hotel at the time of the fire.

PEDAR SATHER, a well-known capitalist and sole owner of the bank of Sather & Co., of San Francisco, died at his residence at Oakland on the 28th, after a long illness.

GEORGE W. CHILDS and A. J. Drexel, of Philadelphia, have contributed $1,000 each to the fund for Mrs. John A. Logan, and John Wannamaker contributed $500.

MISSOURI STATE NEWS.

Mrs. Ann Gratiot, one of the oldest and most highly respected citizens of St. Louis, died a few days since at the age of eighty-two years, at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Charles P. Chouteau. Mrs. Gratiot was a noble woman, noted for her many noble deeds of charity and Christian work generally. She was a member of the Episcopal Church.

Will Gregg, a colored boy nineteen years old, was arrested in Kansas City a few days ago by Deputy Sheriff G. H. Hessler of Moine, Ia., for the murder of George Munkin in that city, September 12. Gregg stole an overcoat of Munkin, and he was pursuing Gregg, when Gregg stabbed him. Gregg's real name is Sheldon, and he is a criminal.

Two thousand brewery employees are on a strike at Philadelphia.

FIVE persons were killed at a fire in Lisbon, the capital of Portugal, on the 28th.

DR. BICKEL, of Waubeck, Ia., killed his father with a club on the 28th.

LORD HARTINGTON has declined to enter Lord Salisbury's cabinet.

HALF of the town of Marlboro, Md., was destroyed by fire on the 28th.

MICHAEL DAVITT was married to Miss Maria York, at Oakland, Cal., on the 28th. GIBSON has been attached to the staff of the Grand Duke Vladimir at St. Petersburg.

A RANGEE was tendered Governor Charles Robinson by the Jefferson Club at Lawrence, Kas., on the night of the 28th.

HON. W. H. SMITH is to succeed Lord Randolph Churchill as leader of the Conservative in the House of Commons.

PEPPINA LATOUR, an Italian girl, fell in front of an elevated railroad train at New York on the 28th, and was crushed to death.

CHAS. DILLON, has furnished the bail of $1,000 required by the recent decision of the court for agitating the "Plan of Campaign."

Mrs. EMMONS, wife of Prof. Emmons, the geologist, who mysteriously disappeared at New York after her arrival from England, was found at Wormley's Hotel, Washington.

The Paris correspondent of the London Times has information from an undoubted source that Germany and Russia signed a direct alliance nearly three weeks ago.

Mrs. A. PINCKERTON, in an interview on the 28th, stated that $23,000 of the money stolen from the Adams Express Company had been recovered. The total amount of cash obtained, according to Mr. Pinkerton, was $24,000.

TELEGRAMS from Los Angeles, Calif., report heavy falls of rain and snow. The cholera in Mexico has somewhat abated. Over 100,000 four-year new cases and seven deaths were reported.

A REPORT is current that Mexican troops and revolutionaries have had a terrible fight in Sinaloa, Mexico, and many were killed on both sides. The report has not yet been confirmed.

The marriage of Marshal MacMahon's daughter to Marquis Helvin took place in Paris on the 28th. Prince Murat was present on behalf of the Emperor. Eugene, Princess Mathilde signed the marriage contract. The church was splendidly decorated.

A LETTER recently received from the wife of Mr. Justice Woods of the United States Supreme Court, who is spending the winter in Southern California on account of his health, states that the justice is well and has returned to his home in St. Louis.

GENERAL HILES is a brave man, but there is one thing he did not care to do, and that was to remain in Washington on New Year's day. He has returned to his home in the White House and afterward called upon the Secretary of War and everybody of prominence receiving on that day.

Mrs. DON CAMERON is at present lying very ill of typhoid fever in Washington, and her family are much concerned at the result. She is recovering, however, and it is only having declared ill on the 28th.

LIEUTENANT W. H. EMORY has been ordered to command the Thetis, one of the Greely relief vessels, which has been refitted at the Brooklyn Navy Yard and will be attached to the Pacific squadron. The Thetis is to be stationed in Alaskan waters to act in conjunction with the Pinta, which is not regarded as entirely safe for open sea duty.

The St. Petersburg Academy of Sciences has received a telegram from Dr. Hunge, at Orling, reporting the successful termination of the laboratory of the Russian expedition which has been exploring the region around the mouth of the Lena river in Eastern Siberia, and the new Russian expedition, where the Joannette expedition came to grief.

The American Society of Naturalists at its session in Philadelphia on the 28th elected the following officers: President, J. A. Allen; Vice-President, J. A. Allen; Secretary, E. D. Cope; Philadelphia; M. L. Goodale, Cambridge; H. T. Williams, Ithaca; Secretary, S. F. Clarke, Williams; Treasurer, J. A. Allen; Executive committee, C. G. Riley, Washington; H. S. Osborn, Princeton.

WITKROCK, Haight and Weaver, the three principals in the celebrated "Frisco express robbery, are safely housed in jail at St. Louis, and nearly all of the money has been recovered. They are now being held at the Adams Express Company. The men have all made confessions and will not involve the courts in an expensive trial. They all agree as to the facts of the robbery, and as to the money recovered.

IMPOSING and impressive funeral services were held in the United States Senate chamber on the 31st, over the remains of the late Senator General Logan. The cortege that formed the escort to the temporary resting place was the largest of the kind ever seen in the National capital.

On the collision of the German passenger train and a freight on the Southern Pacific railway near Devil's Run, on the night of the 31st, ten men were killed and many others were injured. A passenger train of the German Empire was celebrated on the 11th of the anniversary of his entrance into the Prussian army. The event was the occasion of much enthusiasm in Berlin and other portions of the empire.

The President was compelled to abandon his purpose of attending General Logan's funeral, because of the illness of his daughter, Mrs. Cleveland, however, and her mother were present.

It is officially announced that the commercial relations between the United States and Spain will be prolonged until March 1st next.

M. BASTIEN, the originator and architect of the statue of "Liberty Enlightening the World," proposed to the United States by the people of France, has been advanced to the rank of Commander of the Legion of Honor.

The funeral of the widow of General Logan had reached $4,000 up to the evening of the 31st, and on that day Mrs. Logan also received from Wm. F. Nixon, manager of the Chicago Inter-Ocean, checks aggregating $8,000 as New Year's gift from friends in Chicago.

The new year began in orthodox winter style, news from all over the country indicating a blizzarding season, with snow storms. Calling was attended with more or less discomfort wherever indulged in.

The President managed to go through the "three hours' fast" prescribed by the New Year's calendar, but it proved rather a painful task for him, and was in direct violation of his physicians' orders.

It is accordance with the will of the deceased, the remains of Peter Down, the Conemaugh hermit, were cremated at Pittsburgh, Pa., on the 1st, the remains being shipped from Johnstown for the purpose.

The Marquis of Londonderry offers to sell his Irish estates to his tenants.

JOHN S. NEWBERRY, prominent in railroad and other enterprises in Michigan, died at Detroit on the 28th.

GOSCHKE, the London Post says, has agreed to succeed Lord Randolph Churchill in the British Cabinet.

TOO BAD!

Those Who Pinned Their Faith on the Innocence of Express Messenger Fotheringham Have It Ruined Shaken by Being Found Dead in His Room—More Money Recovered.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 30.—The center of interest in the great express robbery has once more shifted to this city. In all that has been published heretofore on the case, there has been nothing to indicate that the public as to Fotheringham's guilt or innocence. According to the confessions of both Witkrock and Cook, Fotheringham was a party to the conspiracy, and was to have received $10,000 for the part he played.

When Bob Pinkerton left Leavenworth at six o'clock yesterday morning he had recovered $23,000 of the money stolen from the Adams Express Company. He was not through, however. Accompanied by his three operatives and Witkrock and the latter's mother he came to this city. The party did not come up town, but remained at the Union depot, leaving the impression that they were waiting for a train. When the Missouri Pacific got off, one of them was Detective McGinn, and the other Oscar Cook, the man arrested in this city Saturday for complicity in the express robbery.

Oscar Cook and Mr. J. H. Butler, agent of the Adams express, entered a carriage, and at half past nine stopped at the residence of John Cox, Oscar Cook's father-in-law, with which he was on friendly terms. The detective, dispensing with formalities, directed under the hall door, where he appeared with a half-dozen beer bottles, in which were stowed a lot of crisp New York notes. Then they re-entered the carriage and went to the residence of Henry Cook, the father of the man under arrest. They did not enter at once, but leaving the hack at the door walked to a frame house across the street.

Under the hall door, where he appeared with a half-dozen beer bottles, in which were stowed a lot of crisp New York notes. Then they re-entered the carriage and went to the residence of Henry Cook, the father of the man under arrest. They did not enter at once, but leaving the hack at the door walked to a frame house across the street.

Under the hall door, where he appeared with a half-dozen beer bottles, in which were stowed a lot of crisp New York notes. Then they re-entered the carriage and went to the residence of Henry Cook, the father of the man under arrest. They did not enter at once, but leaving the hack at the door walked to a frame house across the street.

Under the hall door, where he appeared with a half-dozen beer bottles, in which were stowed a lot of crisp New York notes. Then they re-entered the carriage and went to the residence of Henry Cook, the father of the man under arrest. They did not enter at once, but leaving the hack at the door walked to a frame house across the street.

Under the hall door, where he appeared with a half-dozen beer bottles, in which were stowed a lot of crisp New York notes. Then they re-entered the carriage and went to the residence of Henry Cook, the father of the man under arrest. They did not enter at once, but leaving the hack at the door walked to a frame house across the street.

Under the hall door, where he appeared with a half-dozen beer bottles, in which were stowed a lot of crisp New York notes. Then they re-entered the carriage and went to the residence of Henry Cook, the father of the man under arrest. They did not enter at once, but leaving the hack at the door walked to a frame house across the street.

Under the hall door, where he appeared with a half-dozen beer bottles, in which were stowed a lot of crisp New York notes. Then they re-entered the carriage and went to the residence of Henry Cook, the father of the man under arrest. They did not enter at once, but leaving the hack at the door walked to a frame house across the street.

Under the hall door, where he appeared with a half-dozen beer bottles, in which were stowed a lot of crisp New York notes. Then they re-entered the carriage and went to the residence of Henry Cook, the father of the man under arrest. They did not enter at once, but leaving the hack at the door walked to a frame house across the street.

Under the hall door, where he appeared with a half-dozen beer bottles, in which were stowed a lot of crisp New York notes. Then they re-entered the carriage and went to the residence of Henry Cook, the father of the man under arrest. They did not enter at once, but leaving the hack at the door walked to a frame house across the street.

Under the hall door, where he appeared with a half-dozen beer bottles, in which were stowed a lot of crisp New York notes. Then they re-entered the carriage and went to the residence of Henry Cook, the father of the man under arrest. They did not enter at once, but leaving the hack at the door walked to a frame house across the street.

Under the hall door, where he appeared with a half-dozen beer bottles, in which were stowed a lot of crisp New York notes. Then they re-entered the carriage and went to the residence of Henry Cook, the father of the man under arrest. They did not enter at once, but leaving the hack at the door walked to a frame house across the street.

Under the hall door, where he appeared with a half-dozen beer bottles, in which were stowed a lot of crisp New York notes. Then they re-entered the carriage and went to the residence of Henry Cook, the father of the man under arrest. They did not enter at once, but leaving the hack at the door walked to a frame house across the street.

Under the hall door, where he appeared with a half-dozen beer bottles, in which were stowed a lot of crisp New York notes. Then they re-entered the carriage and went to the residence of Henry Cook, the father of the man under arrest. They did not enter at once, but leaving the hack at the door walked to a frame house across the street.

Under the hall door, where he appeared with a half-dozen beer bottles, in which were stowed a lot of crisp New York notes. Then they re-entered the carriage and went to the residence of Henry Cook, the father of the man under arrest. They did not enter at once, but leaving the hack at the door walked to a frame house across the street.

Under the hall door, where he appeared with a half-dozen beer bottles, in which were stowed a lot of crisp New York notes. Then they re-entered the carriage and went to the residence of Henry Cook, the father of the man under arrest. They did not enter at once, but leaving the hack at the door walked to a frame house across the street.

Under the hall door, where he appeared with a half-dozen beer bottles, in which were stowed a lot of crisp New York notes. Then they re-entered the carriage and went to the residence of Henry Cook, the father of the man under arrest. They did not enter at once, but leaving the hack at the door walked to a frame house across the street.

Under the hall door, where he appeared with a half-dozen beer bottles, in which were stowed a lot of crisp New York notes. Then they re-entered the carriage and went to the residence of Henry Cook, the father of the man under arrest. They did not enter at once, but leaving the hack at the door walked to a frame house across the street.

Under the hall door, where he appeared with a half-dozen beer bottles, in which were stowed a lot of crisp New York notes. Then they re-entered the carriage and went to the residence of Henry Cook, the father of the man under arrest. They did not enter at once, but leaving the hack at the door walked to a frame house across the street.

Under the hall door, where he appeared with a half-dozen beer bottles, in which were stowed a lot of crisp New York notes. Then they re-entered the carriage and went to the residence of Henry Cook, the father of the man under arrest. They did not enter at once, but leaving the hack at the door walked to a frame house across the street.

Under the hall door, where he appeared with a half-dozen beer bottles, in which were stowed a lot of crisp New York notes. Then they re-entered the carriage and went to the residence of Henry Cook, the father of the man under arrest. They did not enter at once, but leaving the hack at the door walked to a frame house across the street.

Under the hall door, where he appeared with a half-dozen beer bottles, in which were stowed a lot of crisp New York notes. Then they re-entered the carriage and went to the residence of Henry Cook, the father of the man under arrest. They did not enter at once, but leaving the hack at the door walked to a frame house across the street.

Under the hall door, where he appeared with a half-dozen beer bottles, in which were stowed a lot of crisp New York notes. Then they re-entered the carriage and went to the residence of Henry Cook, the father of the man under arrest. They did not enter at once, but leaving the hack at the door walked to a frame house across the street.

Under the hall door, where he appeared with a half-dozen beer bottles, in which were stowed a lot of crisp New York notes. Then they re-entered the carriage and went to the residence of Henry Cook, the father of the man under arrest. They did not enter at once, but leaving the hack at the door walked to a frame house across the street.

Under the hall door, where he appeared with a half-dozen beer bottles, in which were stowed a lot of crisp New York notes. Then they re-entered the carriage and went to the residence of Henry Cook, the father of the man under arrest. They did not enter at once, but leaving the hack at the door walked to a frame house across the street.

Under the hall door, where he appeared with a half-dozen beer bottles, in which were stowed a lot of crisp New York notes. Then they re-entered the carriage and went to the residence of Henry Cook, the father of the man under arrest. They did not enter at once, but leaving the hack at the door walked to a frame house across the street.

Under the hall door, where he appeared with a half-dozen beer bottles, in which were stowed a lot of crisp New York notes. Then they re-entered the carriage and went to the residence of Henry Cook, the father of the man under arrest. They did not enter at once, but leaving the hack at the door walked to a frame house across the street.

Under the hall door, where he appeared with a half-dozen beer bottles, in which were stowed a lot of crisp New York notes. Then they re-entered the carriage and went to the residence of Henry Cook, the father of the man under arrest. They did not enter at once, but leaving the hack at the door walked to a frame house across the street.

Under the hall door, where he appeared with a half-dozen beer bottles, in which were stowed a lot of crisp New York notes. Then they re-entered the carriage and went to the residence of Henry Cook, the father of the man under arrest. They did not enter at once, but leaving the hack at the door walked to a frame house across the street.

Under the hall door, where he appeared with a half-dozen beer bottles, in which were stowed a lot of crisp New York notes. Then they re-entered the carriage and went to the residence of Henry Cook, the father of the man under arrest. They did not enter at once, but leaving the hack at the door walked to a frame house across the street.

Under the hall door, where he appeared with a half-dozen beer bottles, in which were stowed a lot of crisp New York notes. Then they re-entered the carriage and went to the residence of Henry Cook, the father of the man under arrest. They did not enter at once, but leaving the hack at the door walked to a frame house across the street.

Under the hall door, where he appeared with a half-dozen beer bottles, in which were stowed a lot of crisp New York notes. Then they re-entered the carriage and went to the residence of Henry Cook, the father of the man under arrest. They did not enter at once, but leaving the hack at the door walked to a frame house across the street.

Under the hall door, where he appeared with a half-dozen beer bottles, in which were stowed a lot of crisp New York notes